MARSHIP ON CONVOY Second Airliner Crash In Day Claims 20 Lives

DUTY NEAR ICELAND S SENT TO BOTTOM

Washington, Oct. 31.—(P)—The Navy announced today the loss of first warship in the European war, the U. S. destroyer Reuben James, of a torpedoing last night while convoying in the north Atlantic, east of Iceland.

First reports brought no word of possible loss of life. The ship last night carried six officers and 114 men.

Unlike the destroyer Kearny, which survived a torpedo blow amid October 17, but lost 11 men, with 10 others being wounded, the Reuben James went to the bottom.

The Reuben James was the first to be sunk in the increasing tempo action at sea in the last two months. President Roosevelt on September 11 ordered the Navy to "shoot on sight" any Axis warcraft counted.

Whether the Reuben James or any accompanying ships were able to make any damage was undisclosed. Secretary of the Navy Knox said this week the navy probably would not disclose any submarine losses by the fleet, following the British policy of distorting Axis claims by such secrecy.

Whether it was a submarine, a surface vessel or a torpedo-carrying plane which brought the Reuben James to its doom was not disclosed.

In the absence of any word as to possible loss of life, the Navy said the Reuben James carried life-saving equipment sufficient to meet the needs of many more officers and men than comprised complement.

She was equipped with two 26-foot motor whale boats, each having a normal capacity of 24 persons and capable of carrying more in an emergency. She also carried at least six life rafts, each designed for 25 people, and in addition, the navy said, there were "life preservers of a quantity sufficient to care for 15 per cent more than the entire complement of the ship."

The Reuben James was described at the Navy as an O-type flush deck destroyer said to be similar to the type traded to Great Britain.

The Navy described this vessel at 314 feet long with a beam of 30 feet. Her displacement was 1190 tons.

Her normal crew was 120 men—6 officers and 114 enlisted men. Commissioned September 24, 1920, the vessel was built by the New York Shipbuilding Company and carried four 4-inch main rifles and a battery of anti-aircraft guns.

She was the third American warship to be fired at and the second to be hit by a torpedo. President Roosevelt ordered the navy last month to pursue a policy of "shoot on sight" in taking all steps necessary to protect munitions shipments from the United States to England.

First target of a torpedo in the North Atlantic was the destroyer Greer, one of the old type ships, 50 of which were traded to Britain a year ago.

Two torpedoes were fired at the Greer on September 4 by a German submarine. Both went wild.

Two weeks ago today, October 17, the destroyer Kearny, engaged in a night battle against a German submarine, was hit by a torpedo which had attacked a convoy southwest of Iceland, was hit amidships by a torpedo and 11 American seamen were killed and 10 wounded.

The Kearny, a much larger vessel than the Reuben James, had a displacement of 1,630 tons and carried a crew of about 180 officers and men.

She was of much sturdier construction than the Reuben James, having been completed and put into service only last year.

Unlike older types the Kearny had a hull protected by the latest "torpedo armor" (Turn to Page Fifteen)

ISSUE WARRANT FOR ARREST OF FORMER DEPUTY

Erie Man To Be Taken Into Custody on Forgery and Embezzlement Charges Upon Recovery From Serious Operation

REPUDIATION REPORT

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—(P)—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Clifford G. Baugher, former deputy state treasurer, on charges of forgery and embezzlement of $13,000. Attorney General Claude T. Reno disclosed.

The warrant will be served when Baugher recovers from an operation at an Erie hospital, the attorney general said. Physicians reported it would be two months before the Erie man, who quit last week as deputy treasurer of the commonwealth, could appear in court.

Reno explained the warrant was issued when he learned of published reports in Erie that Baugher denied forging the name of Leo Werner. Harrisburg postmaster, checks for $10,000 and $2,000 deposited in Baugher's account in Pittsburgh. The money was recovered.

The attorney general issued this statement.

"My attention has been called to a story in an Erie newspaper to the effect that Clifford G. Baugher has denied that he stated to me that he had forged the signature of Leo A. Werner to state checks aggregating $13,000 and deposited in his account. (Turn to Page Eight)

Seventeen Passengers And Three Crew Members Perish As American Airlines Transport on Buffalo-Detroit Run Falls And Burns on Ontario Farm; Investigation Started

WORST ACCIDENT IN CANADA AIR HISTORY

St. Thomas, Ont., Oct. 31.—(P)—A giant American Airlines transport crashed in a drizzling rain last night, killing seventeen passengers and a crew of three.

As the 21-passenger Douglas airliner plummeted to earth on a farm 14 miles west of here, it burst into fierce flames that balked attempts to rescue the trapped occupants.

All the victims were from the United States, bound on the Buffalo-Detroit leg of the regular flight from New York to Chicago.

Mary E. Blackley of New York City, 27-year-old stewardess, was the only woman victim.

There was no immediate explanation. (Turn to Page Fifteen)

AIR POCKET IN MAIN RESULTS IN GAS SUSPENSION

Many consumers of the Manufacturers Gas company throughout the borough were compelled to turn off gas burners during the night when an air pocket in the main transmission line coming into Warren caused considerable confusion about seven o'clock last night.

According to officials of the company, men had been making repairs to the main line which brings gas into the borough yesterday afternoon at Rogertown, east of Warren. In some manner air must have entered the line and caused a pocket, it is stated.

Fires in stoves of some residences were forced out as well as under machinery in many plants. The entire force of the gas company, along with several workers of the Pennsylvania Gas company and Pennsylvania Electric Company, worked all night checking the situation and as yet no damage has been reported.

Instances where residents could not be contacted or aroused from their sleep, the gas men were forced to cut off the gas supply from the curb. At an early hour this morning, however, employees had the supplies turned back to all residences.

Officials and workers of the company put forth every effort to remedy the situation in the shortest time possible. Guy O. McKinley, agent, this morning expressed his grateful appreciation to the consumers of the company for their fine cooperation when they were aroused during the night.

SCOUTS ATTAIN EAGLE RANK AT REVIEW BOARD

Two Scouts, Neil Johnson of Ludlow Explorer Troop 50 and Donald Branstrom of Troop 14 Russell, attained Scoutism's pinnacle, the coveted Eagle rank, at a Board of Review held at Scout Headquarters last night. Donald White, of Troop 4, Warren, appeared at the same review and was awarded the rank of Star Scout.

Johnson entered Scouting as a Tenderfoot at the age of twelve and in November of 1937 became a Second Class Scout. He attained First Class rank in November of 1938, completed his first merit badge work as he attained the Star Scout rank in December 1939, advanced to Life Scout rank in December 1940 and last night reached the goal that is the ambition of every Scout, Johnson had an excellent record as a Scout and leader.

Branstrom entered Scouting in August of 1935, became a Second Class Scout in December 1936; a First Class Scout in November 1937; Star Scout, April 1938; Life Scout in January 1939 and last night completed the final step on the Eagle trail. Branstrom has long been active in Troop 14 and is now employed in a local plant.

Warner Bros. bring you this great show as a special election day Tuesday November 4th treat. No other city in Pa. outside of Pittsburgh, will get this show.

The production, the most expensive ever brought to this community, promises to be a theatrical treat that will long be remembered.

Read what the leading newspapers and critics have said about it. Speaking of the famous Billy Rose beauties, the San Francisco Bulletin wrote: "The famous Billy Rose Glamour girls make up the beautiful ladies of the ensemble. This stage full of breath taking loveliness is in itself worth the price of admission."

One of the great featured acts, the famous Balabanow Accordionists, created such a sensation at the famous Steel Pier Theatre in Atlantic City, that the famous Abbott and Costello personally acclaimed them, and honored them by appearing on the same bill. Walter Winchell said "The Balabanows are sensational. The music of Benny Goodman, Glen Miller, and Kay Kyser rolled into one. Like ten name bands! Music lovers! Get ready to stomp your feet and cheer. If you like music, you can't afford to miss this great act. Another great act is the famous "Hector and His Pals", 20 of the world's cutest and best trained puppies.

Ed Sullivan wrote, "Of all the acts I have ever seen, I like Hector best." Imagine an act so unusual that Jimmy Dorsey chose to personally introduce them at the Strand Theatre in New York.

There are dozens of sensational artists in this great show. If you like real honest to goodness laughs, vivacious beautiful girls, and a real high class stage show, be sure to see the greater all new Karston Show of 1942 at the Library Theatre one day only—Tuesday Nov. 4th.

ARMISTICE DAY ARRANGEMENTS PROGRESSING

Joint Committee From Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion Holds Interesting Meeting to Plan Local Celebration

TENTATIVE PROGRAM

A 100% attendance of the members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Armistice committees in the joint meeting last evening at the Service Bureau, indicated the interest manifest in making this year's celebration in Warren, the best ever. The work of building the celebration is divided up as follows: The Veterans of Foreign Wars will have charge of the parade feature of the program, and the American Legion will have charge of the ceremonial ritual, speaking, and musical part of the program. The place of meeting will be determined by the weather. If the day is bright and cheerful, the ceremony will be held out of doors at Monument Park by the approach to South Side bridge. If, however, the weather shows any inclemency, the parade will march right on to the library theatre, where George Sarvis, general manager of the Warner Bros., has offered its facilities for the performance of the Armistice Day program.

The committee is unanimous for making the celebration of Armistice Day, in Warren, this year a real community affair. All organizations interested in patriotism are invited to attend in a body, and participate in the parade. Subsequent announcements will be made of the participating organizations as fast as they advise the committee of their desire to join in the celebration. Please get this matter before your organization and notify any member of the committee as soon as possible. The committee of the American Legion consists of William J. Walker, John Mead, and Elmer Munksgard. The committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars consists of J. H. West, Leo Weidert, and James V. Scallie. Further announcements will be made as the parade and program for Armistice Day celebration develop.

WARREN COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

When in 1902 C. W. Stone, C. D. Crandall, A. J. Hazeltine, W. W. Wilbur, L. D. Wetmore and J. P. Jefferson asked the court for incorporation of The Warren County Historical Society, they said it would have two objects:

- "—preservation of the civil, political and religious history of Warren county;
- "—promotion of the study of that history."

Although its facilities for keeping and showing local history materials have never been adequate, the Society has always maintained a repository and museum, open to the public, on the second floor of the Struthers Library building at the corner of Liberty street and Third avenue.

But our history is not all in books and papers. When the Pennsylvania Historical Commission's archaeological surveys opened the Indian mound at Sugar Run this summer, full of fascinating—is fragmentary—pictures of a civilization here long before ours x x x older than the Norman Conquest and the Crusades. There has been no lack of interest. As many as 4,000 have visited the spot in a single day. But what they saw was a puzzle-picture. The pieces were there, but what they meant was not clear to the average man. Only experts could put them together.

In pursuance of its second object, the Society put out an explanatory folder, free to visitors at the Mound. Over 7,500 were taken away in a few weeks.

Under its sponsorship the experts who did the digging this summer have spent the day in Warren's schools, teaching from this textbook in the ground. Tonight, in the High School auditorium, they will tell the story again and in greater detail to those adults who want to hear it.

Saturday the work goes on at Kinzua, and at the mound itself, where amateur and professional archaeologists from everywhere will gather to hear about and study the more technical bearings of this find; and at the Saturday night meeting of the Society and its guests to listen to the real story of our live Indian neighbors up the river—a story which will come as a surprise to many.

But the Society's "History Days" are not all Indian days!

On Monday afternoon at the Philomel Club attention turns to General Wm. Irvine, foremost of the Revolutionary figures associated with our history, on the 200th anniversary of his birth.

Few areas of like extent hold so much of historic fascination and importance as does Warren county. It is scarcely surprising that the Society has received an enthusiastic response to its invitation to public membership, and to assistance in its work of giving life and historic meaning to our hills and valleys.

The invitation to membership is still open, of course!

Some remarkable pictures shown at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening are doubly interesting because they coincide with one of the main articles in the November issue of the Reader's Digest. It is entitled "Big White Medicine Man—An Epic Achievement in Medicine Among the Navajos."

Construction of a dam at Waltonian Park for the purpose of creating a skating rink for enthusiasts of the silver blades is expected to be started within a week or so at Oil City. Looks like Warren will have to worry along without an ice skating rink for another season at least.

The grand old man of October is about to be on its way and it is hard to realize that two months from tonight we'll be observing New Year's eve!

Among other things for which the weather man is being blamed is the bogging down of the Nazi drive on Moscow.

The zero hour is rapidly approaching for small game in the county!

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It was nice to see F. Van Wyck Mason again. The author of "Three Harbours" and "Stars on the Sea" was just in off a big game hunt in Canada. He had bagged a 1600-pound bull moose with a silver bullet and the world was a pretty pleasant place. Over a beverage at the Harvard Club he told about it.

"It made up for the one I didn't get last year."

"You mean you missed him?"

"No, not exactly. He was too young. He didn't have any horns. He was as close to me as from here to here. I couldn't shoot a moose like that."

"This year I went up to hunt through the Vermillion river country. That's great country. It's in Quebec, above La Tuque. I had Ralph Mover with me. Ralph's a friend of mine, a Vermont game warden."

"We had Indian guides and we covered 80 miles in five days. That's a ten-day trip, ordinarily. We made 15 portages. But it was worth it. I got him just at dusk, from a canoe. The thing I like about it is that I got him at 350 yards. He came out of the forest and down to the water. I could hear him breaking through the underbrush. The water was choppy and I sat there with a Marlin 30-30 in the deepening dusk. Because of the distance, I aimed a bit high and the first shot took him through the withers. He reared up and broke into a run. The second shot was just right. It entered the flank and came out behind the shoulder. He was a big one. But that silver-tipped bullet stopped him in his tracks."

MASON also got 15 grouse and some fine trout fishing. He hurried back to New York to have a day in town to arrange some details for the publication of his new book, "The Rio Casino Intrigue," which is about military intelligence with a Brazilian background. Then he had to hurry over to Philly to speak at a book fair. After that he returned to Baltimore to resume work on his latest historical novel, "Rivers of Glory," which is a companion piece to "Three Harbours" and "Stars on the Sea."

Two weeks from now he must speak in Boston, and after that the duck season in Maryland will be under way, which is trying on a writer who is trying to keep his mind on his business. I have a date to shoot ducks with Mason on the Chesapeake next month. I won't be using silver-tipped bullets, but I'll probably be shaking as much as he was when he drew a bead on that big moose.

Interesting Islands

The seven seas are full of a great number of islands, some larger than states or countries; others smaller than a schoolyard. You probably won't be cast adrift on any of these, but if you were, how much would you know about them?

1. Which is the larger, Greenland or Australia?
2. What are the four countries on the island of Borneo, and to what nation does each belong?
3. How many islands are there in the Philippines; in the Azores?
4. Madagascar and Sumatra are shaped somewhat similarly. Where are they and who owns them?
5. What is another name for Papua, and what nations own it?

SCHOOL CAFETERIAS IMPORTANT

State College, Pa., Oct. 30.—(P)—The school cafeterias in the future, says Dr. Pauline Beery Mack, director of the Richards Institute of Pennsylvania State College, should be regarded as places where children may obtain the nutrients they don't get at home. The institute is about to publish a series of mathematical tables to enable school dietitians to predict "with a reasonable degree of accuracy" what children from different types of homes need in school lunches.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE FOR JUDGE

Judge Lindsey said last night in Sheffield before a large gathering at the Legion hall: "The question is not whether the candidate is a Democrat or a Republican. But is he capable of filling the office? What the law is has to guide a judge. It is not political as it makes no difference what political affiliation the judge has, he has to administer the law and justice impartial for all the people. The question is, who of these two candidates before the voters is best qualified to fill that office and carry out the duties of that office. In E. H. Beshlin you do not have to speculate on his qualifications. He has demonstrated in other offices of judicial nature he has held.

I do not have to hesitate due to my practice in court and contacts with other attorneys to say here that Earl H. Beshlin is the better qualified to be judge. He has demonstrated in his qualifications have been denied by no one. What is then the reason? Is it because he is a Democrat and not a Republican? What has that to do with a non-partisan office? Some would vote for Pat's pig if he were only on the Republican ticket. You cannot reason with such people. There is only one answer. Are you going to vote for a rubber stamp politician or are you going to vote with intelligence? That is the whole thing in a nut shell. That's up to you."

Harold S. Hampson, attorney and Republican councilman of Warren, spoke of olden times with party caucuses and conventions when candidates were chosen for office. It got so rotten that laws were passed for direct primaries. This system has now become more obnoxious than the older system. You voters know what has transpired in the recent primary. A candidate for Judge the choosing of a political leader. The rank and file of the voters did not speak. We scoff at conditions in Europe where Hitler tells them who to select. Is it any better in Warren county? Are we going to have a leader tell us we must have Wade or none at all? I hope not."

E. H. Beshlin, candidate, reported that expenses filed to nominate his opponent were 50 percent higher than candidates for Superior and Supreme court benches which took in the entire state of Pennsylvania against just Warren county. In 67 counties Parker, Republican, spent $1,645, Compton, Republican, $1,752; Carr, Democrat $1,421; Musmanno, Democrat, $1,232; Wade, of Warren and Forest counties, $8,100, or an average of 75 cents a vote. I do not have proof but I understand it was more in spending so much money you folks have something to think of very seriously. The day has not arrived as some think it has, when a candidate is denied the right to aspire to office because he is a Democrat or a Republican."

During the second quarter of 1940, the United States imported 2,814,041 pounds of vegetable waxes, other than cornuuba wax.

America's Card Authority
Lieut.-Col. "Al" Gruenther dropped me a line recently. I know tournament players throughout the East, who recall him as Major Gruenther, will be delighted to know of his promotion. He has moved on to San Antonio, Tex., where he is deputy chief-of-staff of the Third Army.

Colonel Gruenther has been the director of the Vanderbilt team-of-four every year, one of the most colorful team contests in bridge. This tournament is now under the auspices of the American Contract Bridge League and is for the national knockout open team-of-four championship. The contest is scheduled for the week beginning April 13, 1942.

Today's hand is an interesting one from this year's tournament. West, who bid one diamond, successfully discouraged North from making his normal lead. The result was a short-suit opening which had declarer guessing for the rest of the hand. He played the queen from dummy and won.

Now he had the idea that North must hold at least one honor in each of the black suits, else he would probably have led from nothing in preference to leading from the king of hearts.

Declarer, therefore, cashed the ace and king of spades, expecting either to find North with a doubleton honor or a tripleton. On the third spade lead, South was in to cash his fourth spade. North let go two diamonds. South exited with a heart.

Now declarer, having discovered that North had led from the king of hearts when he might have led the top of nothing in spades, switched his ideas and decided that North could not hold the queen of clubs. So he cashed the ace and king of clubs, hoping to drop the doubleton queen from South.

The upshot of all this misguessing was that declarer made just nine tricks. At the other table of the match, West bid and played the hand normally and with a diamond opening lead, he made five-odd. His team won the match by 60 points—just the margin of the two extra tricks.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It was nice to see F. Van Wyck Mason again. The author of "Three Harbours" and "Stars on the Sea" was just in off a big game hunt in Canada. He had bagged a 1600-pound bull moose with a silver bullet and the world was a pretty pleasant place. Over a beverage at the Harvard Club he told about it.

"It made up for the one I didn't get last year."

"You mean you missed him?"

"No, not exactly. He was too young. He didn't have any horns. He was as close to me as from here to here. I couldn't shoot a moose like that."

This year I went up to hunt through the Vermilion river country, that's great country. It's in Quebec, above La Tuque. I had Ralph Meyer with me. Ralph's a friend of mine, a Vermont game warden.

"We had Indian guides and we covered 80 miles in five days. That's a long trip, ordinarily. We made 15 portages. But it was worth it. I got him just at dusk, from a canoe. The thing I like about it is that I got him at 330 yards. He came out of the forest and down to the water. I could hear him breaking through the underbrush. The water was choppy and I sat there with a Marlin 30-30 in the deepening dusk. Because of the distance, I aimed a bit high and the first shot took him through the withers. He reared up and broke into a run. The second shot was just right. It entered the flank and came out behind the shoulder. He was a big one. But that silver-tipped bullet stopped him in his tracks."

Mason also got 15 grouse and some fine trout fishing. He hurried back to New York to have a day in town to arrange some details for the publication of his new book, "The Rio Casino Intrigue," which is about military intelligence with a Brazilian background. Then he had to hurry over to Philly to speak at a book fair. After that he returned to Baltimore to resume work on his latest historical novel, "Rivers of Glory," which is a companion piece to "Three Harbours" and "Stars on the Sea."

WARREN COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

When in 1902 C. W. Stone, C. D. Crandall A. J. Hazeltine, W. W. Wilbur, L. D. Wetmore and J. P. Jefferson asked the court for incorporation of The Warren County Historical Society, they said it would have two objects:

- "—preservation of the civil, political and religious history of Warren county;
- "—promotion of the study of that history."

Although its facilities for keeping and showing local history materials have never been adequate, the Society has always maintained a repository and museum, open to the public, on the second floor of the Struthers Library building at the corner of Liberty street and Third avenue.

But our history is not all in books and papers. When the Pennsylvania Historical Commission's archaeological surveys opened the Indian mound at Sugar Run this summer, full of fascinating—is fragmentary—pictures of a civilization here long before ours x x x older than the Norman Conquest and the Crusades. There has been no lack of interest. As many as 4,000 have visited the spot in a single day. But what they saw was a puzzle-picture. The pieces were there, but what they meant was not clear to the average man. Only experts could put them together.

In pursuance of its second object, the Society put out an explanatory folder, free to visitors at the Mound. Over 7,500 were taken away in a few weeks.

Under its sponsorship the experts who did the digging this summer have spent the day in Warren's schools, teaching from this textbook in the ground. Tonight, in the High School auditorium, they will tell the story again and in greater detail to those adults who want to hear it.

Saturday the work goes on at Kinzua, and at the mound itself, where amateur and professional archaeologists from everywhere will gather to hear about and study the more technical bearings of this find; and at the Saturday night meeting of the Society and its guests to listen to the real story of our live Indian neighbors up the river—a story which will come as a surprise to many.

But the Society's "History Days" are not all Indian Days!

On Monday afternoon at the Philomel Club attention turns to General Wm. Irvine, foremost of the Revolutionary figures associated with our history, on the 200th anniversary of his birth.

Few areas of like extent hold so much of historic fascination and importance as does Warren county. It is scarcely surprising that the Society has received an enthusiastic response to its invitation to public membership, and to assistance in its work of giving life and historic meaning to our hills and valleys.

The invitation to membership is still open, of course!

Some remarkable pictures shown at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening are doubly interesting because they coincide with one of the main articles in the November issue of the Reader's Digest. It is entitled "Big White Medicine Man—An Epic Achievement in Medicine Among the Navajos."

Construction of a dam at Waltonian Park for the purpose of creating a skating rink for enthusiasts of the silver blades is expected to be started within a week or so at Oil City. Looks like Warren will have to wait along without an ice skating rink for another season at least.

The grand old man of October is about to be on its way and it is hard to realize that two months from tonight we'll be observing New Year's eve!

Among other things for which the weather man is being blamed is the bogging down of the Nazi drive on Moscow.

The zero hour is rapidly approaching for small game in the county!

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning.—Luke 12:35.

Between the tree and the bark it is better not to put your finger.—Molier.

Two weeks from now he must speak in Boston and after that the duck season in Maryland will be under way, which is trying on a writer who is trying to keep his mind on his business. I have a date to shoot ducks with Mason on the Chesapeake next month. I won't be using silver-tipped bullets, but I'll probably be shaking as much as he was when he drew a bead on that big moose.

STORIES IN STAMPS

Swiss Hard Pressed To Keep Neutrality

SWITZERLAND always has been a name associated with peace. The conference halls, the peace tables and the now-still buildings of the League of Nations are located in this island of Democracy.

The little nation—whose population approximates four million—traces its independence 650 years. For 125 years there have been no foreign armies on its rocky terrain, because the average Swiss would rather die than give up his liberty and because Switzerland's mountains provide protecting barriers.

The stamp above issued for the Swiss National Exposition in 1939, depicts an average family, with typical Swiss pride Switzerland boasts the last of the pure democracies in the provincial autonomy and extends democracy into the family.

Bound on all sides by Axis-powers the Swiss have thus far avoided being overrun by hostile armies, although direct and veiled threats from Berlin indicate that such time may not be far off.

Neutrality is a religion with the nation; they have interned French, German, and English soldiers with equanimity. Trouble may be in store for the little nation but the Swiss don't flinch. They say, "We have nothing to lose but our lives."

On an average, questions asked in the British House of Commons cost 21 shillings each to answer.

St. Joseph Players in Dress Rehearsal Stage First Public Play; Reservations Saturday

Finishing touches are being added to "Moon Over Mulberry Street," already, and all is in readiness for dress rehearsal, although the St. Joseph Players will not offer the production to the public until next Thursday and Friday evenings, November 6-7.

Reservations for the three-act comedy may be made at Bimber's News Room from two until five o'clock Saturday afternoon and from 4:30 to 7:00 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Attention is called to the fact that reservations may be made by single admission buyers as well as season ticket holders, a revised ruling put into effect recently by the club. Because of the unusual nature of the production, a large attendance is anticipated and those holding season tickets for the three major productions are urged to make their reservations early.

Director Lewis Critelli has expressed complete satisfaction with the progress of his cast and is looking forward to a very successful revival of this hit comedy.

For the first time in the history of the St. Joseph Players, a play is being presented for the second time—this because of the constant demand of the many who were unable to see the first presentation and of the many who would enjoy seeing it again. It has been an unusual experience for the original cast, getting together and recreating the characters they made famous three seasons ago. The mood and story of "Moon Over Mulberry Street" are so pleasant that little difficulty has been experienced in bringing the play to dress rehearsal stage in so brief time.

Filippo, the brilliant son of Italian immigrants in New York, is a college football star—feted, dined and applauded by the world of Park Avenue. He thinks he loves a spoiled young heiress, and she loves him too—in her fashion. This is the basic situation which supplies the current of the story, a resulting drama of universal human appeal which is tense and powerful.

More important, however, are the many colorful and loving characters who provide the human touch in this simple, winning play. They are witty and warm-hearted, kind and loving, the kind of people who make life worth while. Although "Moon Over Mulberry Street" is a comedy, it has its share of drama and romance, with tears chasing laughter and laughter hiding tears.

Those who will portray these fun-loving characters from Mulberry street are Jane Bevevino, Lewis Critelli, Mac Corah, George

Debut in Erie

BETTY FIELD

Miss Betty Field, well known local dancer and prominent member of the Warren Players' Club, left on Thursday for Erie, where she has been asked to appear in a three-week run of "Kind Lady," opening at the Erie Playhouse on November 10.

Miss Field will do the role of Ada, which she handled very successfully last Thursday and Friday in the Warren Players presentation of the same drama at the Woman's Club.

Although she acted with the Playhouse group at the Dock Theatre in Point Chautauqua this past summer, doing the dancer in "The Barker," this role will mark her debut in the Erie Playhouse.

Miss Field has been active for some years in the Jamestown Little Theatre, also, and is chairman of the play-selecting committee of that organization for the current season.

Dispatches from Kibyshev, auxiliary Soviet capital, said all Crimean men capable of bearing arms were being mustered to stem the Nazi onslaught. The Crimean is strategically important both as controlling the northern waters of the Black Sea and as providing a short-cut route to the Caucasus oil fields across the narrow Kerch strait. On the Moscow front, the Germans were hammering violently at Soviet Gen. Gregory Zhukov's Red air defenders from the Tula sector in the south and the Volokolansk region, 65 miles north-west of the capital. Military advisers reaching London, however, said the Germans had captured Volokolansk after bitter fighting in which the town changed hands three times in three days.

National Defense Media- tion Board Considers Final Recommendations

Chairman William H. Davis, and Philip Murray, president of the CIO, conferred briefly before the session got under way. Murray is a member of the original 11-member board set up by President Roosevelt, and all but one of the eleven, George M. Harrison, of Cincinnati, president of the AFL-Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, were here.

Davis gave no indication as to whether the board would follow, but officials summarized that the entire group would discuss the issues and that eleven, yet to be determined, representing industry, labor and the public, would cast the final vote. President Roosevelt had been assured by Davis that the board would "consider the matter continuously" until it agreed on final recommendations.

Meanwhile, some 33,000 members of CIO's United Mine Workers—began trudging back to the pits under the 17-day truce agreement yesterday by John L. Lewis, UMW president, after district leaders of the union had voted to accept President Roosevelt's back-to-work proposal.

Although the truce had been expected to reduce Capitol Hill agitation for legislative curbs on future strikes, much of the effect was lost last night when President Roosevelt found it necessary to order the army to take over the strike-harried plant of Air Associates, Inc. at Bendix, N. J.

A move was reported contemplated in the senate today to force action on legislation for ending defense production stoppage due to industrial disputes.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said he, for one, would not be satisfied to go on "temporarily" with those responsible for such stoppages.

Byrd, like many others, conceded, however, that administration sponsorship probably would be needed to get remedial legislation through congress at this time.

While President Roosevelt said Tuesday that he was studying several proposals on the subject, many of his congressional henchmen thought the progress made in the captive coal mine case had cooled administration ardor for immediate legislative action.

In the captive mine case the mediation board's task was to find a solution in the case of the UMW and to the steel companies which would be acceptable both to UMW and to the steel companies.

(The mines are called captive because their coal is not marketed commercially, but used in the steel mills of the operating companies.) There was no guarantee, however, that the board's solution would mean the automatic end of the dispute for in referring the case to the board, Wednesday President Roosevelt stipulated that neither side was bound in advance to accept its recommendations.

The Democratic-controlled committee itself has taken issue with the way the bureau has been policing claims, blaming administration.

Air Associates Plant Is Taken Over By Army

torson and William Knudsen, director of the OPM. Sixty-five strikers were to have returned to work last Monday but refused, the union contending the company had attempted to get them to sign reinstatement forms which would deprive them of their former positions and pay in violation of the settlement agreement. The company denied any such intent.

On receiving assurances that War Department representatives would supervise their reinstatement at former jobs the strikers agreed to return yesterday.

Their return to work benches prompted a brief flare of violence and a 30-minute work stoppage by 200 non-strikers. Joel Miller, union committeeman, said that the first union man to take his place at a machine was badly beaten when "30 or 60 men jumped on him."

The union men later left the plant at the request of the War Department and production resumed.

President Roosevelt announced his action in a formal statement issued by White House Secretary Stephen Early and stating "our country is in serious danger."

He said that Air Associates "has failed to carry out its part" of accommodations by the Defense Mediation Board, and reviewed the dispute between the company and the United Automobile Workers of America (UAW), which charged unfair labor practices.

Secretary of War Stimson ordered the troops to the plant under the president's instructions.

youth had admitted eight attacks. Sgt. R. O. Parsons, state police detective, said the youth's written statement related he bumped Miss Andrews "with his left elbow as he passed her on the sidewalk" but that later Houck said he "used a stick instead of his elbow."

Defense Attorney Samuel J. Huber of Altoona brought out in cross-examination that Houck had not made a written statement about the stick, and indicated that Houck's statements had been obtained under duress.

a duty assigned to her. The navy said she was on convoy operations, in the north Atlantic when torpedoed.

Replying to another question, Mr. Roosevelt said he had not thought of the possibility of cutting off diplomatic ties with Germany which for several years have been strained severely.

Reporters pressed the chief executive for information whether American warships had sunk any German submarines, but Mr. Roosevelt said he would not tell even if there had been such sinkings.

He made it clear that the reason for withholding information on sinkings, if there have been any, was for the effect on the morale of crews of other Nazi undersea craft.

"Is it the policy to announce when our ships are sunk and not when those attacking them have been sunk?" a reporter inquired.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled that his questioner was around in World War days, and that the sinking of German ships was not announced, then although casualties to American vessels were.

"You can't keep it secret from Germany, can you?" was the next question.

The reply was: Oh yes, for a long time, and that's the point.

WARNING TO HUNTERS
With the small game hunt season starting Saturday, the R. Cross warns hunters to thin twice before shooting the lack of a daisical rabbit—it may carry a deadly tularemia germ. Tularemia not only threatens the hunter, but the housewife and market man as well. Those handling rabbit in dressing and cooking should wear rubber gloves. Thorough cooking, however, kills tularemia virus, removing possibilities of infection.

PRESS BREAKS DOWN
In explanation of the fact that the Times-Mirror came to the majority of doorsteps behind schedule last night we offer an apogee today in the fact that to mechanical trouble in the press time had to be taken for making repairs, causing the delay. Pre-trouble isn't frequent, and that particular nature hasn't been encountered at the Times Publishing Company in the past ten years.

CAR HITS POLE
Considerable confusion was caused about 11:15 o'clock last night when a car said to have been driven by Philip D. Maines, of 5 Pennsylvania avenue, east, struck and completely broke off a pole near Rogertown. A fuse at the Warren-Penn. substation of the Pennsylvania Electric Company blew out as a result of the accident and residents of that vicinity and Kinross were without electricity for about an hour. According to reports Maines was hurt in the mishap, but his car, a Ford convertible, was quite badly damaged.

AN OPEN LETTER

EDWARD LINDSEY
Warren National Bank Building
Warren, Pennsylvania

October 27, 1941

Mr. A. H. Yerg, Chairman
Non-Partisan Committee
For Beshlin for Judge
Warren, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Yerg:

Your efforts to bring to the attention of the voters the importance of the Judicial Office and its non-partisan nature are very commendable. The very great importance to all of the people of having the office of Judge of our Courts filled by the attorney best qualified in point of legal ability, experience, practice and mature judgment is pretty obvious to an attorney who appears frequently in the courts; it is not so obvious to persons engaged in ordinary business pursuits. Since I have had an opportunity to know and to learn at first hand the qualifications of the members of the Bar for this high office, I am impelled to offer your organization my support of the candidacy of Earl H. Beshlin for the Judgeship.

Since anyone is liable to have his rights challenged and to be obligated to defend or vindicate them in the courts, the importance to every citizen of who is to fill the judicial office is apparent. Not only the property rights, but the liberty, the good name of any citizen, the custody of his children, his social, marital, and political status—even his life—may depend not only upon the legal learning of the Judge, but upon his ability to apply that learning to the varied situations of fact that arise and upon his wisdom, good judgment, experience and independence.

It is my considered and candid judgment that of the candidates before the voters the qualifications of Earl H. Beshlin for the Office of Judge in all the respects referred to are unquestionably superior and that the election of Mr. Beshlin would be highly advantageous to the people of this Judicial District. I therefore consider it my duty as a citizen to support Mr. Beshlin. Your organization may make such use of this letter as it sees fit.

Sincerely,

EDWARD LINDSEY.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. What is the major objective of the Defense Savings Program that has a strongly democratic significance?

A. Buying Defense Bonds and Stamps enables all of us to become partners in our government—to own a share in the greatest and soundest enterprise on earth: the United States government.

Q. Why didn't the treasury department launch a high-pressure campaign for the sale of Defense Savings Bonds last May?

A. There was no need of it. The program to stimulate volunteer saving by all the people was the democratic way.

Note—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also stamps are on sale at retail stores.

Red Cross Issues New Appeal for 100,000 Volunteer Nurses' Aides

Warren Chapter, American Red Cross, headlines a new appeal to the public with this plea—"Want 100,000 Volunteer Nurses' Aides." The special committee handling this new phase of service reports that a nationwide shortage of professional nurses is causing considerable uneasiness. The report continues:

Even before the defense emergency the supply was barely adequate to take care of all our rapidly growing community health needs. Since then several thousand registered nurses have been called to staff the new Army and Navy hospitals for our boys in the defense forces.

With hospitals and other health services so seriously depleted, civilian needs are naturally affected. And a widespread epidemic such as the influenza which devastated whole communities during the World War might cause a desperate situation.

Congress already has appropriated $21,250,000 to facilitate the raising of 50,000 new student nurses. But in the meantime there is an urgent need for volunteers to serve in all kinds of community services as assistants to graduate nurses. A capable volunteer who can undertake a number of necessary routine services can release the overworked professional nurse for the vital essential duties for which she has been trained and for which she is so badly needed. The Volunteer Nurses' Aide Corps, enrolled and trained by the American Red Cross, in cooperation with local defense, hospital, medical and nursing authorities, offers one of the most worthwhile ways in which women can serve the cause of civilian defense.

Hospitals, public health, prenatal, baby and school clinics, industrial hygiene and other services all have need of such nurse's aides, and any woman who gives her time and energy to helping maintain the health and morale of her own community will have the satisfaction of knowing that she is making a valuable contribution to the cause of national defense and the strengthening of our democratic fabric. We need a large Volunteer Nurses' Aide Corps here in Warren right now. Several have enrolled for the 80-hour instruction course, but more applicants are needed if the course is to be given. Mrs. W. F. Clinger or members of her committee will be at the Red Cross headquarters at 404 Market street every afternoon next week from two until three to talk over the course with anyone who is interested in the work and to receive applications.

Members of Y.M.C.A. Boys' Club Aiding In Sale of Polgar Tickets

Spurred on by the incentive of an opportunity to see without cost one of the most outstanding exhibitions of mental feats ever presented here, members of nine boys' clubs of the Y. M. C. A. are starting out on a sale of tickets for the performance to be given in the high school auditorium on November 13th by Dr. Franz J. Polgar.

Dr. Polgar is coming here in a benefit for the Times-Mirror-Alas Santa Claus Fund, with a students' matinee at 4:15 p. m. and an evening show at 8:00. The nine Y. M. C. A. boys' clubs, which are under the leadership of T. F. Eppley, "Y" boys' director, will be working to receive a cash prize of $2,000 which is being offered to the club selling the most tickets. This prize will go into the treasury of the club which wins it.

In addition, for each ten tickets which an individual sells, one free ticket to the performance is being awarded.

Members of the clubs will have both student and adult tickets. The student tickets, good only for the afternoon performance, sell for 20 cents, including tax, while adult tickets cost 55 cents. Although students may attend the evening show, they must have adult tickets to do so. Adults attending the matinee performance must purchase 55-cent tickets.

The Atlas Santa Claus Fund, which will benefit from Dr. Polgar's appearance here on November 13th has been in existence for many years. During that time it has performed a wide variety of services in the community, not only at Christmas time but throughout the year.

Its chief purpose at the present time is to provide a bit of cheer for those who otherwise might be forgotten—not only at the holiday but at every season of the year.

In order to carry on the work which is to be done, it is necessary that funds be raised. Many individuals and organizations have made gifts to the fund each year and these still are gratefully accepted. By attending the Polgar show, each individual will be participating in this most worthy effort.

Places to Buy Polgar Tickets

Tickets to the lecture-demonstration by Dr. Franz J. Polgar on Thursday, November 13, at the high school auditorium may be purchased at the following places:

Cozy Corner Confectionery, Pennsylvania avenue and Market street.

Texas Lunch, 214 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

WARREN HIKING CLUB PLANNING PLEASING TRIP

The Allegheny Hiking Club is planning a hike for next Sunday that will be in keeping with the observance of Warren county's "History Days." If favorable weather prevails the hikers plan to drive to the abandoned church site off the Scandia road where the road leads down Poplar Hollow and from there hike down the old Cornplanter Run road. Arrangements will be made to transfer cars so that the hikers can be brought back to the starting point.

The old Cornplanter Run road, now abandoned, was one of the earliest roads leading from the Quaker Hill-Scandia ridge down to the river and connecting with the old State Line road and other up-river routes. The Cornplanter Run road appears on earlier maps prior to the establishment in 1838 of the present road going toward Oneida, and reaching the Allegheny River near that point. Sunday's hike will be a little less than six miles in length and will end at the Indian reservation, where those who have not done so may visit the Cornplanter monument. Any out-of-town guests who may be here for the observance of Warren County's "History Days" are cordially invited to join the hikers, who will meet at General Joseph Warren Park on Poplar street at 2:00 p. m., ready to leave at 2:35 if possible, and no later than 2:30.

PUBLIC MEETING TONIGHT OPENS "HISTORY DAYS"

The public participation in Warren county's "History Days" will begin this evening with the free public meeting at the Warren High School at 7:30 o'clock. Interesting illustrated talks will be given in describing the work done here in Warren county during the past summer, with photographs and materials taken from the Sugar Run mound site. The three speakers, Dr. C. E. Schaeffer, Dr. Wesley Bliss, and Edmund Carpenter will all present the story of mound builders and their recently discovered work right here in the upper Allegheny Valley.

Another feature of the events being sponsored by the Warren County Historical Society will be the meeting at the Philomel Club at 3:00 p. m. on Monday, November 3rd, commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the birth of General William Irvine. M. H. Deardorff, president of the Warren County Historical Society will preside at this meeting, and the principal address on the life of General Irvine will be given by Hon. Edward Lindsey, with tributes from representatives of three patriotic societies, who have assisted greatly in perpetuating the historical records of Warren county.

General William Irvine was born near Enniskillen, Ireland, on November 3, 1781. He was an active participant in the controversies leading up to the American Revolution, and served in many of its principal battles. He was a confidant of General George Washington, and following the Revolutionary War he came to this section and surveyed much of the territory in this vicinity. He was a member of the constitutional convention for Pennsylvania, and served in many other capacities in the early settlement of this part of Pennsylvania.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Times-Mirror:

I used to work for you so you know that I am a Republican and have occasionally written Republican publicity. However, I haven't always voted a straight ticket nor have I always voted Republican—and it happens that neither Allison D. Wade nor any other Republican knows I am writing this letter to you.

I am writing merely as a slightly irritated voter who is very tired of the recent dramatics over this judge business. In the first place, what is this "non-political" group back of Mr. Beshlin? One of Warren's biggest Democrats told me six years ago he hoped Earl Beshlin would be the next judge—and all of Mr. Beshlin's supporters seem to be Democrats. So what's the game we're playing, kids—masquerade?

I don't care if Mr. Beshlin's a Democrat. I wouldn't care if Mr. Wade were a Democrat; I'd still vote for him. And this is why: I've known Mr. Wade, his friends and those who are not his friends, and I have never heard an unkind rumor or an ugly suspicion murmured against him. In a small town, that is something! I've heard him talk in a small discussion group as well as in meetings and I know he is a man of intelligence. I know from his clients and associates that he is a man of integrity. And I know from his extensive law practice that he has the background for the office he seeks.

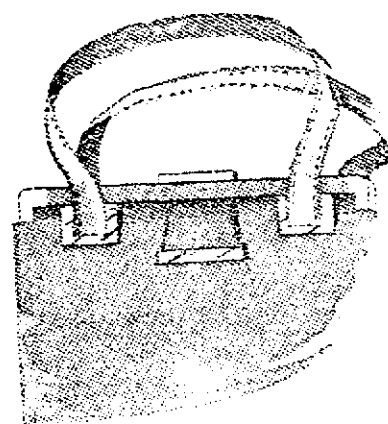

Now, I've heard great emphasis placed on the fact Mr. Beshlin is older than Mr. Wade. I don't know the ages of either of these men but I can guess. Therefore, never having heard that a man in his sixties is more capable than a man in his forties, I can't understand the significance. Obviously, Mr. Wade isn't in his first childhood nor would one think Mr. Beshlin is in his second. So where's the
